

Luc Decker
Consul General of Luxembourg
Executive Director, Luxembourg Trade and Investment Office, Shanghai

Dear friends of Luxembourg,

In this edition of our newsletter, you will read about the strengthening of the ties between Luxembourg and China's financial sector with the opening of CCB's European headquarters, ABC's interest to follow the footsteps of CCB, ICBC and BoC, CSSF's approval of the first RQFII UCITS fund... and many more exciting news about Luxembourg companies in China and most recent developments in the Grand-Duchy.

Enjoy the read!

‘Centre De Langue Et De Culture Chinoise Du Luxembourg’ signs cooperation agreement with Shanghai Normal University.

On November 28th, H.E. Mrs. Mady Delvaux-Stehres, Luxembourg Minister of Education, H.E. Mr XianQi Zeng, Ambassador of the People’s Republic of China to Luxembourg, and representatives from both CLCCL and SHNU signed a quality cooperation agreement at Luxembourg Ministry of National Education and Vocational Training.

This agreement will help to further improve the existing ties between CLCCL and SHNU, while strengthening language & cultural exchanges between the two countries.

To learn more about this cooperation agreement and CLCCL please click here

Retaining and attracting talents: Luxembourg in the top ten

INSEAD

The Business School
for the World®

When it comes to producing and retaining talent, European countries rank at the very top, according to the Global Talent Competitiveness Index, which looks at nations’ ability to nurture and keep a talented workforce.

The top 10 includes only two countries outside of Europe, Singapore and the United States. Other nations with the best talent pools include Switzerland (1st), Denmark, Sweden, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

The study compared 103 countries, scoring each nation with data that fell into six categories, including retaining talent, growing labor and vocational skills

To read the full study, please click here